Advisory Board To Aid Draftees

Advisory Board 3 for draft registrants in the town of Andover, North Andover, and Boxford has resumed its conferences under the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940. This is a board of sixteen members, organized to advise and assist registrants in the preparation of their questionnaires, claims, and the like. It has no connection with the local draft board, but has its own independent organization.

The chairman, James S. Eastham, of Bartlet street, has announced that members of the board will sit Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings in the Town Clerk's office in the town hall from 7 to 9 o'clock, beginning April 7. Furthermore, the town clerks of Andover and North Andover are members of the board and are ready to give advice and assistance to draftees at any time during the day.

It is urged that all draftees wishing help with any particular problem in connection with their questionnaires or with any phase of the selective service get in touch with one of the members of the board listed below:

John Avery, 36 Morton street; Henry A. Bodwell, 31 Morton street; Joseph A. Duncan, 32 Third street, North Andover; Roy E. Hardy, 114 Chestnut street; A. Murray Howe, 460 Osgood street,

Use New Altars At St. Augustine's

Complete except for several statutory pieces, St. Augustine's three new marble altars were put in use for the first time Easter Sunday, after two months' work on their installation. It is expected that a special dedicatory service will be held sometime in the near future.

Several types of marble were used in the construction of the main and two side altars. The steps and predella are made of Cardiff marble from the mountains of Western Maryland, and the altar itself from Kasota marble from Minnesota. Only one other altar in the United States is made from the latter variety, since few strata are suitable for artistic purposes.

The large panel behind the altar is made up of three types of marble, the larger portions being of the Hautville type imported from France. The Crucifix panels are of Boise-Jordan from Palestine, blood red in color, and the figure is hand-carved from limestone.

Framing the altar are sections of rose and cream-colored Italian marble, which takes a high polish. Still to be installed are two large Kasota

Permit No Open Fires This Month

The frequency and persuasiveness of telephone calls to the local fire department asking for permits to burn leaves and brush have suggested to Chief C. Edward Buchan the necessity of calling attention to a law passed by the Massachusetts legislature in August of last year.

The law sets forth that "no person shall set, maintain or increase a fire in the open air at any time unless the ground is substantially covered with snow, except by written permission," in this case, of the fire chief. It goes on to say that "no such permit shall be granted to be exercised during any portion of the months of April and May except upon rainy days, and provided further, that persons over the age of 21 may, without a permit, set, maintain or increase a reasonable fire for the purpose of cooking" in a properly protected open place.

The fire chief, by the law, may make it a condition for granting a permit that any burning shall be done only after four o'clock in the afternoon, and he may revoke a permit at any time. Violations are punishable by fines, imprisonment, or both.

Such being the case, local officials are not responsible for the present situation, since fires may be set, this month and next, only by permission of the department and on rainy days. Incinerators may be used for burning, provided they are covered.

When the ban has been lifted, permits to burn may be obtained by calling the fire station on the day the burning is to be done. Since there is no snow at this time of year, burning without a permit is strictly illegal.

Few Changes Made In Town Offices

Only a few changes are included in a list of town officers for the current year released by Town Clerk George H. Winslow. Eugene Bernardin of Abbot street has been appointed to the Pumps Pond committee, succeeding Gordon B. Elliott, who has resigned. The other members of the board, George G. Brown and Edward Lefebvre, will serve again.

Clarence E. Earley and Edmond J. Lonergan have been added to the list of public weighers, which otherwise remains the same, and John Campbell and Clarence White will serve as civil constables in addition to J. Lewis Smith. Walter M. Lamont has been reappointed to the board of appeals, and Clifford Marshall has been chosen trustee of the Spring Grove cemetery in place of the late Walter E. Curtis.

Tonight's Blackout To Determine Extension Of Warning System

Signals Flashed To Report Center Will Give First Inkling Of Raid; Emergency Workers On Duty

School Dental Work Approved

Committee Adopts Policy On Step Increases; Plans For Rationing Program

Dental work in the Andover public schools is quite as good as, if not better than, the work done in those of other communities of the same size, according to a letter received by Dr. Malcolm B. McTernan from the state department of health, and submitted by him to the school committee at its monthly meeting Tuesday night. A lengthy report from Miss Florence E. Bowar, school dental hygienist, corroborated Dr. McTernan's statement.

Other business transacted at the meeting included the appointment of a sub-committee to study the problem of the increases granted school teachers for professional study, and a new section of the by-laws was drawn up. Harold T. Houston, chairman of the financial and advisory sub-committee, has developed a plan whereby applications for salary increases due or anticipated in any calendar year shall be made in writing to the superintendent of schools on or before the December 1 prior to that calendar year.

By the ruling, all increases due in or before September of any year shall, if applied for according to the new plan, become effective in September. Applications for increases based on courses this summer will be honored this fall, however, if these courses have already been ap-

Merrimack To Assist In War Insurance Program

Edward C. Nichols, vice-president and secretary of the Merrimack Mutual Fire Insurance Company, attended a conference of mutual fire insurance company executives in Chicago on April 6. The conference was called to consider a proposal for participation by Mutual Fire Insurance Companies in the government's War Risk Insurance program.

Agreement was reached on a plan that is expected to be offered to

Members of the local blackout and public safety committees, during tonight's test, are expected to make a careful check on the response to blackout signals as a result of several complaints received from Shawsheen, Ballardvale and West Andover residents, following the blackout two weeks ago, that such signals were not clearly audible in their districts.

Arrangements in the assembling of workers different from those of two weeks ago have been made necessary by the fact that tonight's test will be a surprise raid, and the defense squads will be subject to call at any time during the evening.

The first knowledge of the necessity for a blackout will be flashed from Boston to the report center in Peabody House on Phillips street. Officials on duty there will notify the precinct wardens, police and fire departments and other emergency agencies.

Three green signals will be received at the report center just before the blackout, and on the first two, the wardens will be assembled,

Two Weeks Remain In Andover Photo Contest

What view in Andover do you think would make a photograph of a typical New England town? Might it be Main street, the town house, the view from Cuba street, the picturesque curve on Ballardvale road, or the stately rows of elms on the Phillips Academy campus?

Why not start forth one of these warm spring days, camera in hand, and photograph something which you think typical of Andover. Then take a chance on winning one of the eleven defense stamp prizes being offered in the current photograph contest being sponsored by the Townsman and the Addison Gallery. You can easily win one of them and have a good time, too.

You have a choice of suggestions for subject matter. "What does Andover mean to you," "What or Who would make a typical Andover photograph," or "Can you find an interesting corner of the town you have never noticed before." The rules are simple. All photographs must be taken within the Andover town limits; a title and the name and address of the photographer must appear on the reverse of each print; entries, limited to three from each contestant, must be in the Townsman office by Tuesday, April 21st, at 5 o'clock.

The Addison Gallery is currently showing a collection of photographs called "Image of Freedom." The photographs collectively compose a picture of America, an image of a country where freedom is enjoyed by the many. The object of the local competition is to obtain a similar picture of a single New England town. You may see these photographs any day between 9 and 5 and on Sundays from 2:30 to 5. Perhaps in them you may find some ideas for your typical Andover pictures.

Campbell Elected By Choral Society

The newly formed Andover Choral Society, composed of 80 local men and women, met on Tuesday evening in conjunction with the Andover Male Choir.

The newly elected officers are as follows:

Alexander Campbell, president; Mrs. Irma Curtis, vice-pres.; Miss Evelyn H. Gordon, secretary; George B. Petrie, treasurer; J. Everett Collins, director; and Raymond Wilcox, assistant director.

Plans are being made for the spring concert, at which the ladies will assist the choir, to be given in the Memorial Auditorium on Friday evening, April 24, at 8:15. Tickets are now on sale and may be procured from members of the chorus.

Mrs. Hervey Northey has returned to Andover after spending the winter months with her sons in Norfolk, Va.

DEATHS

Well-known in Andover, where she was a Winter resident for many years, was Mrs. Lillian H. Annis, 78, widow of William P. Annis, who died last Thursday at the home of her son, Kirk R. Batcheller of 161 Lowell street, after a short illness. During the summer, she had made her home in Edgartown, Martha's Vineyard.

Surviving her are three sons, Fred Burton Batcheller and Kirk Roland Batcheller of Andover, and Harold B. Batcheller of Edgartown; and two sisters, Miss Jennie Brown of Melrose and Mrs. Nathaniel Waitt of Danvers.

Funeral services were held from the family home Saturday afternoon at 1:00, with services conducted by Rev. John S. Moses, minister in charge at Christ church. Interment was in West Parish cemetery.

Joseph Muzzy Robinson, 6 Punchard avenue, died at his home Wednesday morning in his 85th year. He was born in Clinton, Mass. Mrs. John Alden of this town, a sister, is his only survivor.

The funeral will be held from the late home Friday afternoon at 2:00, with services conducted by Rev. Frederick B. Noss, pastor of the South church. Burial will be in the family lot in Bellevue cemetery, Lawrence.

Music Lover Praises Free Church Program

The candlelight service at the Free church Easter Sunday evening attracted a large audience, including many local residents, belonging to other churches, who have come to expect an impressive service and fine music at the Free church. They were not disappointed.

The service was beautiful and well-arranged, and the musicians did their part well. The music selected was austere but noble, and its austerity was relieved by the use of the children's choir, whose sweet and unforced voices made a lovely feature in the service.

The choir as a whole has made astonishing strides in the short time they have worked under their competent conductor, Dr. William Reese, and we take pleasure in regarding it as a remarkable instance of what can be done with a volunteer choir in a small-town parish, if well-trained and enthusiastic. The chorus is ripening to the point of a true ensemble, though one could occasionally detect, Sunday, the over-prominence of a single voice.

But the precision of attack, the good diction and unfailingly true pitch, give promise of a chorus of which the Free church and the whole town may well be proud.

proved by the superintendent of schools.

The action is taken in order to facilitate making out the school budgets for each fiscal year. It supplants the old policy of granting increases for professional study as soon as the required number of credits are obtained and approval is granted.

A committee was appointed at the last meeting to investigate certain misunderstandings arising from the use of school buildings by local organizations. The committee has made a new schedule of costs, and the new policy will be to furnish all persons wishing to hire school halls with memorandums outlining the fees for janitor and other services.

John M. Erving, reporting for the defense activities committee which has been investigating protection facilities for school children, indicated that both the children and persons using the school buildings at night are adequately prepared for any emergency. Joseph B. Doherty, head of the science department at Punchard high school, was granted a leave of absence due to his call to duty as an ensign in the U. S. Naval reserve. No action has yet been taken on appointing a substitute for him.

The regular school vacation ordinarily beginning during the week of April 27 has been moved up to that of April 19, due to the fact that local teachers are expected to assist in the distribution of rationing books during the latter week and that of May 4. It is believed that the distribution will take place in the afternoons, when classes are not in session. Superintendent Edward I. Erickson attended a meeting of county school heads in North Andover yesterday morning in connection with the coming rationing program.

The building and grounds committee was authorized, at the meeting, to call for bids on coal immediately, and also on repairs on the roof of the high school building. It was decided to have this subcommittee oversee the removal of a dumping nuisance behind the bleachers on the playstead during the summer. A warrant of bills and accounts for the month, amounting to $19,512.70 was approved, and it was decided to hold a special meeting on April 21.

Reappointments were made at the meeting as follows:

Bus drivers: Rudolph Johnson, Alvah Wright, Chester Abbott, at $3350 per year, 15 cents allowance per mile for mileage over 75 a day.

Clerks: Miss Frances McTernan, Junior high school, $50 increase; Miss Gladys Downs, Punchard high school, increased $50 to $800; Miss Evelyn Rutter, superintendent's office, increased to $1100.

Miss Florence Bower was re-elected dental hygienist with an increase of $100, to $1300; Miss Edith M. Moreton school nurse at $1600; and Dr. Philip W. Blake, school physician at $600.

Ralph C. Sturke and Miss Frances Hoskins were re-elected and placed on tenure with a salary increase of $100 to $1800, and Miss Dorothy Sanborn was reappointed at a salary of $1600. Other teacher reappointments, each with an increase of $100, were Miss Gwen Armitage, $1500; Anton Kishon, $2300; Miss Evelyn E. Banning, $1700; Miss Dorothy Donovan, $1600; Miss Katherine Sweeney, $1500; Miss Olive Eldridge, $1500; Miss Eleanor G. Raidy, $1300.

APRIL 16—Card Party By West Church Women

The Women's Union of the West church will hold a card party next Thursday evening in the vestry. Many valuable prizes, including a floor prize, will be awarded, and light refreshments will be served. Play will begin at 8:00, and the public is invited to attend; reservations may be had from Mrs. Chester Johnson.

APRIL 17—Minstrel Show By Ladies' Drill Team

Andover ladies, better known for their work in drill competition than in minstrelsy, don blackface a week from tomorrow night at St. Augustine's school hall, when the drill team of the ladies' auxiliary to Clan Johnston, O.S.C., will present an old-fashioned minstrel show with plenty of new-fashioned music. Dancing will be enjoyed after the performance.

Several dancing, singing and instrumental specialties will be included in the program, and a large chorus will assist. The endmen will offer the following numbers: Mrs. Raymond Lefebvre, "I Don't Want to Walk Without You"; Mrs. John Thomson, "Elmer's Tune"; Miss Theresa Burbine, "You Made Me Love You"; Mrs. James Gorrie, "A Little Grass Shack"; Mrs. George Gorrie, "She Don't Wanna."

Mrs. John Souter, who served so capably as interlocutor in the minstrel show put on by the Free Church's Margaret Slattery Class two weeks ago, will assume the role again in this production. Rehearsals so far have indicated that the audience won't clap hands only during Mrs. Margaret Winters' rendition of "Deep in the Heart of Texas."

APRIL 18—Present "H.M.S. Pinafore"

For the first time in the history of the two schools, Abbot and Phillips Academies will jointly present a Gilbert and Sullivan opera. The work will be "H. M. S. Pinafore," which will be presented in the auditorium at Phillips Academy next Saturday evening at 8:30. Reservations will be filed in order of application, and, as a full house is expected, they should be made as soon as possible. Tickets priced at 75 and 50 cents may be had by telephoning 720.

APRIL 29—Movies For Russian War Relief

Local residents desiring to assist in Russian war relief, and at the same time to see what is described as a most thrilling movie, are invited to attend the showing of "Wings of Victory" at George Washington hall. The performance is to be given at 8:00 on Wednesday evening, April 29. Reserved seats are priced at $1.10, general admission, 55 cents.

The program is in charge of the local Russian war relief committee, which includes James Grew, Nathan C. Hamblin, Mrs. Hart Day Leavitt, Abbott Stevens, Rev. A. Graham Baldwin, Mrs. Francis P. McClellan, Thaxter Eaton and Elmer J. Grover.

Robert Hackney, son of Mrs. Lilian Hackney of 12 Maple avenue, and a senior at Syracuse university, is enjoying his spring vacation.

Forget About It

Why don't you just forget about tonight's blackout?

No, we don't mean to disregard it when it happens, but before it happens try to forget that it's going to happen. When the bombers come, we won't have a week's newspaper publicity to let us know the approximate time of the blackout. Tonight's is supposed to be a surprise "raid," but actually, we're going to be all prepared for it, because we do know it's going to be tonight.

When the bombers do come, we will be going along leading our normal life. Some will be home reading, listening to the radio, playing with their son's electric train, hammering away in the cellar; others will be out pursuing the usual evening pursuits. Do that tonight. Do what you'd ordinarily do. Sit down, listen to your radio, just as you would if you didn't know that soon a whistle were going to blow. Tune your ears to the radio; don't strain them to listen for an air-raid siren. Don't sit at your window looking to see if the street lights are going off.

In other words, give the air-raid alarm system a real test. That system has to tell you, some day when you're going about your ordinary duties, that an air-raid is imminent. You won't be waiting for it; you're going to have to hear it without listening for it. If you don't hear it, a warden will come to your door to ask you to blackout. Tell him your story. Tell him you didn't hear the alarm. He'll report it to headquarters, and then headquarters will know that under ordinary conditions the alarm can't be heard where you are.

If you are following your normal course of life, by all means blackout if you hear the alarm; if you don't hear it, by all means let your warden know. But above all, let the test be held under normal everyday conditions.

Communication

Ballardvale

To the Editor:

If the signal for the blackout is that the street lights go out, then that's that. But what if the family is sitting with the shades down, one sewing, one reading, one writing a letter, and nobody looking out to see whether the street lights are on or not? If the street lights go out without warning at 8:30, will 50 percent of our population ordinarily notice it before 9? Is it going to be our duty...to take a look at the street lights once in every three minutes.?

Very truly yours,
STEPHEN T. BYINGTON

St. Francis Seminary

To the Editor:

It is all right for the local blackout committee to consider it "unfeasible to erect warning devices" in "places remote from the town center," but the committee members fail to take cognizance of the fact that in many such places, there are no street lights visible, whose extinguishing would indicate the start of a blackout. This condition is true in the remotest part of West Andover, where there are no street lights and where the air raid sirens cannot be heard—except from Lowell, Dracut and possibly Tewksbury...

If, on the other hand, upon the air raid wardens must devolve the duty of informing the residents in such remote districts of the progress of an air raid or blackout, the need of any warning devices, outside of information relayed from warden to warden, is thereby obviated.

Moreover, it is hardly consonant with the national ideal of having life proceed normally, to expect residents, even in the remote corners of Andover where there are street lights, to keep their eyes glued on them...We believe the remote districts have every right to hear an audible warning when the members of a household are engaged in their ordinary duties.

Very truly yours,
REV. LUKE M. CIAMPI, O.F.M.

(Ed. Note. All such statements are quite true, and the extinguishing of streetlights alone, as a warning signal, would doubtless prove very inconvenient.)

In outlying districts where there are no lights, no sirens, the wardens must assume the responsibility of notifying those who live there. Additional sirens are being considered by the blackout committee, and its members have been waiting for tonight's blackout before coming to a decision.

More and more wardens are being recruited in all districts, and tonight they will be equipped with whistles, which will help the situation somewhat.)

Abbot Academy Notes

Between rehearsals of H. M. S. "Pinafore," which will be given jointly with the Glee Club of Phillips Academy, on April 18th, and preparation for the Achievement and Scholastic aptitude tests, which will be held on Saturday in place of the regular College Board Examinations usually held in June, the upper classmen of Abbot are finding few moments just now which they can call their own. Blackout practices too have taken their toll of student time. But spring is "in the wing and waiting for her cue," so that life is well worth living at Abbot in spite of the crowded hours.

On Saturday night there will be an informal program conducted by the students themselves, which will include a general "sing" and a showing of Abbot movies.

Mr. Bernard T. Drew of the Lawrence Street Congregational Church in Lawrence, will preach at the vesper service on Sunday at 7:30 p. m. Mr. Drew substituted for Mr. Gibbons for a few days in March when the latter was unable to meet his Bible classes.

Miss Hearsey left on Tuesday for meetings of the Board of Directors of the College Entrance Examination Board which are being held in New York this week. On Friday and Saturday she will attend meetings of the Abbot Clubs of Philadelphia and New York City respectively, in those cities. She will return to the school on Saturday night.

This Sober Town

Here and now, we want to register a formal protest against calling particular cases of air raid damage "incidents." A house, for instance, is blown sky-high by a thousand pounds of explosive; six people abruptly leave this vale of tears; broken wires threaten to electrocute several score of bystanders, and hordes of wardens, policemen and firemen tear up to combat a few dozen assorted perils. To call that an "incident" is masterful understatement. A trifling occurrence like the earth flying off its orbit and careening into the planet Jupiter, we suppose, would rank as a "mishap."

The wording evidently comes from the nonchalant British, who, bombed out of their very skins, calmly view the wreckage as "most inconvenient." But we intend to holler bloody murder if a bomb so much as knocks a petal off our petunia. Enemy aviators wishing a sample of our choicest vituperation need only dip their wings casually in our direction.

This is an opportune time to congratulate the Easter Bunny, that splendid patriot who recently paid us his annual visit. The Bunny, so far as is known, was wearing the same fur coat this year, and was traveling completely without the assistance of tires or gasoline. He is well-known for his complete abstinence from sugar, oils, and other vital commodities, and he hasn't a word to say about forty hour weeks and double pay for Sundays.

How would you like to be an Andover soldier, stationed thousands of miles away, up in "Greenland's icy mountains," and hear a radio broadcast emanating directly from the old home town? Thrilling—well, that's what P. F. C. Bob MacLaren of Lewis street thought when he heard a broadcast from Andover and North Andover, U. S. A., to Andover, England, some time ago. To let him tell it, "it gave me a funny feeling to know I was so far away from home and could hear these people I knew so well. I'm afraid it made me a bit homesick for awhile."

What else does a soldier do in Greenland? Well—"I've just come from the P.X., where we had a choir rehearsal, and presented a program (of sorts) over the public address system." And "yesterday, a couple of our fellows got a two-day pass and have gone on an exploration trip down the fiord... today a strong wind came up, and I wouldn't be surprised if the ice in the fiord broke up and blew out to sea. If such is the case, they'll either have to swim back or sleep with the Eskimos..."

Still another activity: "We started a newspaper for the fellows a couple of weeks ago... the whole works was set in my lap, and I had to write practically all the first issue myself." In spite of this, "I don't believe any of us will be sorry to see the last of Greenland. It's been quite an experience."

Well, the newspaper business blows hot and cold down here too, but we think we'd gladly have it blow cold all the time for the awesome experience of being isolated in the great northland, and to hear by chance, crackling out of the long night, what might seem a personal message from another world.

Punchard Notes

Sally O'Riordan

The baseball season is quickly coming around again and Punchard is already starting to line up the members of this year's team. The schedule of games to be played with other schools is as follows:

May 8, Chelmsford, (home); May 11, Central Catholic, (away); May 13, Andover J. V., (home); May 15, Methuen, (home); May 20, Andover J. V., (away); May 22, Johnson, (home); May 25, Chelmsford, (away); May 27, Central Catholic, (home); May 29, Methuen, (away); and June 3, Johnson, (away).

With William McDonald as coach and Carl Erler as captain, some very good games should be expected.

The Senior class book committee has been chosen as follows: Gladys Martinson, chairman; Angelina Thiras, John Erving, Gene Farnsworth, Jane Milliken, Edna Koza, Roger Zeigler.

For the past month or so, several Punchard students have been taking a first aid course under the direction of Miss Frances Collins, Physical Education teacher at Punchard. The following passed their examination and received their certificates: Harvey Tucker, Kathleen Eastwood, Bertha Johnson, Robert Lawrence, Russell MacLeish, Martha Darling, Sarah Darling, Frank Foss, and Carmaline Christaldi.

Joseph B. Doherty, member of the Punchard faculty, recently received his commission as ensign in the naval reserve, and reported for duty Monday. He has been head of the science department and assistant football coach at Punchard. He is the second teacher to be called from the school, as Donald D. Dunn, Physical Education instructor enlisted in the navy several months ago.

The Seniors received their class pictures Thursday, and by now, the rushing around and exchanging of pictures, as in every year, is slowly but surely calming down.

the summons passing in turn from the report center to precinct wardens, and from them to post wardens, who will each notify the men and women in their own groups. On the third green signal, a general warning for the public will be sounded by means of the sirens and whistles used March 22.

The auxiliary police corps will be assembled well before the blackout begins. Local police officials will contact them at their homes by telephone or messenger on receipt of their first notification from the report center.

About 15 Board of Public Works employees will stand by tonight at the Lewis street yards and the central offices during the blackout. Since no incidents will be staged by the report center, no emergency calls will be made on the board's facilities.

All emergency equipment will be so located, however, that it could be sent out in the event of actual or supposed need. Members of the local rescue squad will be assembled and asked to stand by during the blackout, and representatives of the gas and electric and telephone companies will be on duty at the report center.

Tonight's rehearsal will take place in one of the largest areas ever to be blacked out along the Eastern seaboard. About 133 cities and towns, inhabited by 1,138,000 people and covering a territory of 3,125 square miles in Worcester, Middlesex and Essex counties will be darkened. Regions 4, 3 and 9, all to be blacked out, comprise an area including the whole central part of the state, and eastern Massachusetts as far south as Boston.

War Insurance

the government this week by a committee representing the mutual interests. Under this plan the Merimack Mutual would act as a fiduciary agent of the government and perform numerous services for the government owned War Damage Corporation on an "at cost" basis in the twenty-two states in which the company operates.

At the present time all United States property owners are automatically covered against damage by enemy attacks under a $100,000,000 fund set aside for this purpose by the government. For the time being no premium has been charged and no policies issued.

Congress has recently passed a bill, however, creating the War Damage Corporation with funds of $1,000,000,000. When this corporation is organized and ready to function the automatic free protection which is available at the present time will end and property owners, if they are to be reimbursed for any losses due to bombing or bombardment or other enemy action, will have to pay a charge based upon the value of their property and at rates to be fixed by the War Damage Corporation. Under the law this corporation must be in operation not later than July 1, 1942.

To The Citizens of ANDOVER

A Request

In accordance with a proclamation by the President of the United States and the Governor of the Commonwealth, the period April 20 to May 5, is designated throughout the State of Massachusetts for War Bond and Stamp pledges. Every income-earning citizen must be approached.

Volunteers For Canvassing Are Necessary

If you wish to perform this patriotic duty, send your name and address prior to April 15, to James Gould, chairman Andover committee for the Sale of War Bonds and Stamps. Address, Box 151, Andover, or telephone Andover 720. This work can only be done by voluntary canvassers.

You are not asked to sell bonds and stamps. The duties consist only of requesting citizens whose names will be allotted to you to pledge themselves on a form provided by the Treasury department to purchase weekly a convenient amount of stamps or bonds for the duration. No follow-up of these pledges will be asked. They will be considered a moral obligation of the signers.

- Your assistance is requested for the period April 20 - May 5 only.
- The more volunteers, the less work for each; no selling in any event.
- A meeting of all volunteers will be held Thursday night, April 16, at 7:30 in the Memorial Auditorium.
- Don't reason that the other fellow is going to do it.
- Further advice will follow.

Cut out and mail to James Gould, P. O. Box 151.

I volunteer my services.
